People and Partnerships

Stakeholder Network:

Engagement:

- Meetings, workshops, outdoor activities, events and community Workdays
- A broad range of engagement strategies means that the widest number of people become engaged
- Key stakeholders include local Tenants and Residents Associations (TARAs), community organisations and schools/nurseries likely to make use of the rejuvenated spaces
- It has also been very important that Sheffield City Council as landowner/maintainer is happy with proposals
- Interesting and unusual engagement activities have captured people's imaginations, with over 2,700 people engaged so far

Paradigms and Policy

Policy:

Limited budgets remain a challenge: events and activities can be organised on sites but site improvement is restricted to 'quick wins'; any capital funding has to be reserved for the delivery of permanent site improvements later down the line.

Practice and Finance

Finance:

Practice:

On-the-ground progress:

- Planting bluebells with local school children at Hackenthorpe
- Funday events at Club Garden Rd, Beeches Drive, Spital St, Derby St and Duchess Road
- Bulb planting at Stockton Place and Randall Place
- Hot picnic and karaoke at Edward Street
- Lantern making at Birley Spa and Philadelphia Gardens

Pilot development:

Biggest problem is overcoming people's perceptions of the negative aspects of some of the sites

There is a need to get people to think ahead to how the site could be improved and how this would positively affect their quality of life.

Future plans:

On completion, sites will revert to Sheffield City Council for ongoing maintenance and future development. New site maintenance plans will be prepared to assist this transition

SEEDS Partner Involvement

How have you involved your SEEDS partners?

Very little so far, although we have shared the overview of our project with the other partners

What support, help or information do you need from your SEEDS partners?

Have requested whether any other partners have implemented any innovative community engagement techniques that have been successful. No response to date

Lessons Learnt:

That its possible to spread yourselves too thin! In terms of community engagement we are now looking at doing fewer high quality events rather than loads at a lower quality

Evaluation:

The University of Sheffield is evaluating the project as it progresses – this will try and capture how the project positively affects and develops individuals and community groups as well as evaluating how the site enhancements themselves benefit people

The Next Claim

What Happens Next:

Final sign off on the first 3 sites expected.

- Delivery of site improvements to one site will take place
- Community engagement will commence on the next tranche of sites

Challenges

 Balancing the management of delivery on site with further design, community and funding work
