Internship in the Project Development and Communications Unit

The North Sea Region Programme Secretariat is looking for a student with a background in regional development, spatial planning, geography, economics or related fields to work in a transnational European regional development co-operation programme covering the seven countries around the North Sea Region.

We are looking for an experienced student to assist the work in the Project Development and Communications Unit for six months, beginning in April 2010 or as soon as possible thereafter. Working as an intern at the Secretariat will give the successful applicant an opportunity to work in an international environment, being a part of a busy and dynamic team.

Tasks

- Assist in the day-to-day tasks of the unit (e.g. project monitoring, reporting on the progress of the Programme and promotion activities),
- Support the preparation of events and meetings in Denmark and abroad.

Requirements

- Good command of English, proficiency in other languages of the North Sea countries would be an advantage,
- IT-literate, experience with web content and a background in project development would be an advantage,
- Good team worker with a flexible attitude.

Contracting

Approximate gross monthly salary DKK 12,000. Travel expenses paid. The Secretariat will assist with finding accommodation. A work plan will be agreed upon on arrival, which will provide sufficient time for studies.

Closing date

If you would like to apply, please write to Carsten Westerholt, Project Development and Communications Unit Manager, enclosing your curriculum vitae, together with a letter of application.

The closing date for applications is 11 March 2010
